Parascending

The risk

Parascending is an adventurous and exhilarating sport. In common with all air sports it has an element of risk. Due to our carefully evolved training programme injuries requiring more than first aid treatment are rare.

Fitness to fly

You should be in good health and be able to take a heavy landing. If you have previously suffered any head or back injuries, suffer from faintness, dizziness or fits, have a heart condition or are taking medication do not fly until you have sought your doctor's advice and talked to your instructor.

BHPA Membership

All Scouts flying at Sky High 2008 are covered by Unity, Scout Insurance Services and are one-day members of the British Hang-gliding & Paragliding Association (BHPA). BHPA membership provides 3rd party insurance cover.

Your training

You will be trained according to nationally established procedures that are proven to be successful and which minimise the risk of injury. You must agree to follow the directions of your instructor and abide by his/ her decisions.

Your District Commissioner should be informed that you are attending Sky High 2008. Your leader will do this for you. Reports from past Sky High events can be found at www.skylincs.co.uk

EVERYONE attending MUST COMPLETE THIS FORM

You will need ankle support (hiking type) boots, your arms and legs suitably covered and the always necessary sun/wind block cream... and your camping gear.

Camping and activities are all on the same airfield!
No crossing busy roads. The site has a large loo block with hot & cold water.
Tickets will be available for activities, with a small charge if you have more than one go!
Leaders are responsible for their troop health forms etc.
By prior arrangement it may be possible to invest a Scout whilst taking part in Parascending.

Leaders are responsible for the conduct of group members throughout Sky High 2008.

Can you provide an aviation skills activity to enhance our programme?

Let Ann know when you book.

Non-flyers camping - £5.00 — everyone completes a form please

Each year this event is over-subscribed. This year in order to enable more groups to take part the number of participants in each group has been limited to 20.

Please let Ann know if this is a severe problem!

Group Leaders

PLEASE contact Ann Underwood as soon as possible if you are hoping to bring a Group and get the forms back before June 1 if possible! Remember we were overbooked last year!

- YES a Scout can come along with parent but NO not totally on their own!
- Venture/Network groups are welcome

Additional activities

Although we try to provide a wide range of aviation skills based activities if the weather is too windy or halts air activities then we do need to have additional activities available and also especially for the evening.

Leaders last year suggested that they would be willing to organise such things as 5-side football, tug of war, campfire.

Please list below ideas that your group would either organise or help with.
